1 MR. BUTTON: Objection. Form.

2 MS. DALY: Q. Meaning medical condition, a
3 medical event, that may have occurred to a patient
4 from having an implantable device.

5 MR. BUTTON: Objection. Form.

6 THE WITNESS: The device usually -- let me talk
7 about heart valves. They have -- I'm not answering your
8 question. Sorry.

9 MS. DALY: Q. The question is, are you
10 aware of any implantable medical device that is a
11 hundred percent complication free?

12 MR. BUTTON: Objection. Form.

13 THE WITNESS: No, I'm not.

14 MS. DALY: Q. Okay. And --

15 A. But may I qualify that answer?

16 Q. Yes.

17 A. That the complications, in some cases, are 18 relatively small.

19 Q. Sure.

20 A. In other words, there is a minor effect on the 21 physiological functioning of the patient, which has 22 little impact on the individual's health or well-being.

23 Q. For example, do you know from the medical
24 literature that the vast majority of fractures have no
25 clinical significance to the patient?
